Outside of work

You'll always find me on the move, either in the mountains or at the seaside. I'm an avid skier, climber and just a little bit of an adrenaline junkie. I love sharing amazing moments with friends and encapsulating them in images and videos. Recently I've found that I really enjoy working with my hands, which led to quite a lot of DIY projects. I'm open-minded and constantly seeking for new challenges, experiences and places.
